Running is part of the Health and PE Curriculum and as such all children are required to participate.

It is important your child has the correct clothing and footwear every day to be able to participate:

- Sandshoes, sneakers etc. and shorts, leggings or skins – running in gumboots and jeans/heavy longs makes it harder than it needs to be.
- We have talked to the children about this as well

Children will need a note/email/phone call if they are unable to run.

PLANNED PROPERTY WORK BEHIND NGAHAPE AND PURIMU:

The Board has been working on redesigning the area behind Ngahape and Purimu. The first stage of this process is to install some serious drainage to take away the increasingly large amounts of water that comes off the hill into this area during some rain events. As part of this drainage work the area between the fort play area, the cloak bay and the water tanks, will be levelled out and concreted with a retaining wall put in close to the paddock fence. We are planning to get most of this work done in the next holiday break at the end of this term.

WINTER WARMERS Reading Under the Stars

Well done to those who have participated in this. Mrs Tristram, from the CHB Library, will be at school on Friday 2nd to check off the last of the books and to give invitations to the Finale. The Finale Disco will be held at the Waipawa Municipal Theatre at 5:30pm on Friday August 9th. All students that have completed their challenges will get an invitation.

DANNY PRIESTLY MUSIC

FANCY DRESS

This will be held on the evening of September 26th in the Hall. It involves the whole school. Students are asked to dress up as anything they like as long as they can dance in it. The children are learning some dances at school and will perform for the audience. Parents are also encouraged to dress up!

Messages from the Classrooms:

Ngahape: Kia ora koutou. It has been lovely catching up with everyone at the 3 Way Conferences and the children have enjoyed sharing their work with you. Last week we spent some time talking about what the children are good at and it was lovely to hear what they like to do - playing rugby and on the bars in the playground were popular choices! Over the next two weeks the children will be working on how to be 'Firewise' so we will be talking about what a safe fire/unsafe fire is, how to keep safe around fires and hot surfaces and how to make a family escape fire plan. They will take home a Family Firewise book which has activities and safety tips which can help you to talk about what they should do in their home in case of fire. They also know to call 111 if there is an emergency so maybe keep an eye on your child when they have the phone as they may want to experiment!! It was Hector's Special Day last week and we all had fun talking about how wonderful he is. - Lorraine

Purimu: Kia ora koutou. It has been wonderful meeting with you all for the 3 Way Conferences and discussing your child's learning. Thank you to everyone that were able to take the time to do this. We are busy practicing our dances in class for the end of term Fancy Dress Dancing as well as practicing our cross country running, hopefully we will be able to get out on the hills soon to get used to them. In class we are writing questions so we can interview a community hero and find out about their job and why they are so important. We will also be doing the Firewise Unit of learning next week before a visit from a Fireman. Take care- Fee

Rotohiwi: It has been good to see parents and students this week for the conferences. It is great to be on the same page with our goals for the students. We will do our first practise on the cross country track today. Thank you to those parents who help students remember their correct footwear and a change of clothing. I have added tasks to Matific to support our work on fractions and it would be great to work on these at home. Our other homework this term is speech writing and presenting. I have talked to most parents about this at the conferences. Next Wednesday the Year 5 students are off to the Ongaonga 7s. I will be at school with the Year 4s. Keep reading! - Lyn

Ngawaka: On Monday we did a science experiment with Mrs Tennent, it was called a fire snake but it didn't exactly work because we got the ratios mixed up, and couldn't make it work! This week we are also working on speeches, and are aiming to get the introduction and the first paragraph finished by the end of the week with everyone's topics being decided. In literacy we have been reading a book called Refugee which is about the life of three different refugees and we have been set tasks relating to the story. Today was the first chance to get out and train on the hill for cross country this term and we have been doing fitness exercises with Miss Stoddart. Maths this term is focused on working with decimals and fractions. With 4 groups doing different tasks to suit their level we are able to make sure everyone understands in our group sessions with Miss Stoddart. - Ana, George, Tane, Zara and Haylee.

Message from the Principal:

Charles Fadel and the Centre of Curriculum Redesign (CCR)

As part of the work happening around the two CHB Kahui Ako/Communities of Learning we have engaged with Charles Fadel. I, along with Phil Morris and Conrad Nepe Apatu, attended a follow up session with Charles Fadel in Wellington on Monday, which involved a number of interested Kahui Ako members from around the country and a cross section of MOE Policy Writers and Curriculum Delivery team members.

The essence of these ongoing meetings is to build the understanding around why the curriculum has to change – not only for educators but also for the Ministry of Education – It is hard to have sustainable change without involving all who have influenced the design and structure of a county's curriculum.

Although the educators and Government Ministries seem to be the main players Charles was very clear that, although they have significant influence, the students and communities also need to be involved and informed in this process and the shift of focus for schooling and/or education systems. Charles would say this change is not only important education-wise but also an absolute necessity for the coming generations.

What the CCR has been working on for some considerable time is reviewing the many education systems across the world and seeing if they are fit for purpose – the outcome was NO. They were great and fit for purpose when they were designed – right from the time of the Greeks and up through the introduction of mass education leading into the Industrial Age – the changes from education moving from an elite privilege to access for everyone were resisted quite strongly and we are in a similar place now.

We are no longer educating for the PAST or even the PRESENT but need to be educating for the FUTURE – The current focus of education systems on Knowledge Excellence alone is not educating for the future.

There have been some key aspects to come out of this CCR work:

- Certain specific Content Knowledge is important – Defining what that key knowledge is, is a core part of the process.
- Knowledge of Core Concepts is key and needs to be grown – this underpins the transference of Knowledge, skills and capabilities across a wide range of areas or context.
- Competencies are vital for life and wellbeing – this is for individuals, communities, societies and ultimately the world.

Lofty stuff but quite inspiring - It is not left field stuff but is in the forefront of thinking in Education Systems across the world – The OECD have realised that the PISA system of comparing countries educational systems is not fit for purpose anymore as well – It was focused on Academic Knowledge – They have realised that this has lead countries to focus on Academic Achievement as a measure of success, rather than a much broader view of measuring success.

It all comes back to, and starts with, us - as children, parents, communities, teachers and businesses understanding this more so we can start to visualise how we can change what we do in our local school curriculums to better prepare this, and coming generations for the world they are inheriting.

Anyway I hope this starts some conversations out there. - Tena Koutou Katoa – Phil.

PIANO LESSONS:

Would your child like to learn piano but can't get to lessons?... Learn from home!

I am a music teacher offering piano lessons online so they are accessible to students anywhere in New Zealand. I run a website of video lessons that children and their parents can work through at home. My students get personal feedback through a unique video-upload feature and also by booking individual (webcam) lessons directly with me. This is a great opportunity for the many families who were previously unable to offer their children music lessons. Please feel free to ask me any questions. - Katie Dey
